

VentureONE is a division of INTERNETONE Inc. and has its headquarters in Cologne, Germany. We provide a successful environment for entrepreneurial talents to realize their dream of developing leading companies in the Internet industry.

We are organized around the ability to attract and leverage exceptional people and the very best talent – because people are our most important asset.

Startup-Internship (m/f)

To support our growing portfolio businesses, we are looking for a Management Intern.

In this role, you support the development and implementation of the product, sales and marketing strategy. You will represent the company internally as well as externally, lead unit operations, and be responsible for achieving strategic growth plans and profitability goals - all with the support and guidance of our dedicated Executive Management Team.

You think outside the box, and are dedicated to successes professionally. This role is within a high-growth company where the range of initiatives is dynamic, expectations are high, and accountability for results is paramount. In addition, you possess leadership and a strong intellect.

Qualifications/Skills

- Leadership abilities and self-motivation
- Entrepreneurial spirit and strong sense of urgency
- Ability to communicate effectively in and across teams; must possess strong verbal, written, and interpersonal communication skills
- Real Passion for the Internet business and an iron will to succeed
- Strong academic credentials preferred
